Market information

1. China is the largest exporting country and the second largest importing country in the world. In 2010, the total import and export volume of China reached 2972.76 billion US dollars, with an annual increase of 34.7%; export volume reached 1577.93 billion US dollars, with an annual increase of 31.3%; import volume reached 1394.83 billion US dollars, with an annual increase of 38.7%; favorable balance of trade reached 183.1 billion US dollars;

China's total retails of consumer goods

China's import of mechanical and electrical products

China's import of high-tech products

2. In the "twelfth-five-year-plan" period, China will try to meet its domestic demand of economic restructuring and industrial upgrading by "changing the means of foreign-trade development", expand the import of its advanced technology and equipment, key parts and components, material in shortage, new energy and energy-efficient and environmentally-friendly products, consumer goods and medical equipment, and expand the import from the members of free trade zones, countries with a big unfavorable balance of trade and the least developed countries.

HARMONIOUS DEVELOPMENT OF WORLD TRADE THROUGH OPENNESS AND COOPERATION

3. As one of the six largest urban circles in the world, the Greater Yangtze River Delta Economic Circle, including Shanghai, Suzhou, Wuxi, Ningbo and Nanjing, is the largest economic circle in China, with a total economic volume accounting for 20% of China's GDP, and an annual growth rate far higher than China's average level. Its total volume of import and export of foreign trade accounts for more than 40% of China's total. Both its financial revenue and gross retail sales of consumer goods rank the first in China.

Why CIE 2012?

The first national level import expo hosted by the authoritative organization in China.

Hosted by China Chamber of International Commerce and Jiangsu Provincial People's Government, CIE 2012 is the first national level import expo and aims to promote and expand the import of foreign products and technologies.

Strong promotion networks bring numerous qualified Chinese importers.

Advertisements and press release in major Chinese economic newspapers, magazines and TVs, including CCTV, The Finance Channel of Shanghai Broadcasting and TV Station, China Daily, Economic Daily, the Economic Report of the 21st Century Economic Reference, the First Finance Daily, etc. E-newsletter, DM, flyers and tickets sent regularly to over 200,000 Chinese importers and buyers in the official database. CIE 2012 is your best way to make acquaintance with qualified Chinese importers.

Pre-matchmaking, site visits services and storage for exhibits (for half a year after the expo) to ensure your success in CIE 2012.

Through strong networks of China Chamber of International Commerce and free information release on official website, pre-matchmaking service will help you find your potential importers before the expo. If you intend to invest in Jiangsu, China, we will provide you with the information and advisory services. After the expo, your exhibits which are not sold on the spot can be stored in the warehouse of Kunshan Comprehensive Bonded Area for half a year, during which you may still find your importers and buyers.

Best place to learn the latest trends and policies in Chinese import market.

The summit forum and seminars during expo will give you a unique opportunity to listen to the keynote speeches from government officials, senior executives of both Chinese and foreign corporations and experts. Key topics will include the trend of Chinese import market, related policies and strategies to explore Chinese market, etc.
